

Jo Megna-Wallace

As a child I watched my mom and her friends play bridge at the beach with magnetized cards that didn't blow away on a windy day. The game immediately captured my interest so I studied Charles Goren on my own and played when I could find a foursome in college and graduate school. I took a break when I had young children and a busy career as a French professor and high school teacher. Later, as I faced an empty nest and retirement, I took a continuing education course on bridge at the local high school and found out a 2-spade opening bid was no longer a strong bid! Bridge had changed and I was hooked! I have been playing duplicate bridge now for about 10 years and I have met many wonderful people, partners and mentors. For the past few years I have served as a delegate from unit 108 to District 25 and I am ready to do more. I want to contribute to keeping the game a vibrant pastime for all of us and for generations to come.

Thank you for considering my candidacy.
