

Rita Vachani

Hello, my name is Rita Vachani. I am running for an open seat on the ACBL EMBA board and would appreciate your vote.

I got introduced to bridge a few years ago, rather serendipitously, through a Community Education class and it has become a big part of my life since. I enjoy both the intellectual challenge as well as the social connections that the game offers. As an ACBL EMBA Board member, I would try and do what I can to make the game accessible and enjoyable to beginners, occasional and casual players, as well as those who enjoy the competition.

I spent most of my professional career with Verizon, working in R&D, Network Planning, and IT, and was part of the senior management of the company when I retired. I have a Ph.D. in Operations Research from MIT.
